1. Aims

The Trust aims to:

- run an ECT induction programme that meets all the statutory requirements
- provide ECTs with a supportive environment that nurtures, challenges and develops them, equipping them with the tools to be effective and successful teachers
- ensure all staff understand their role in the induction programme

2. Legislation and statutory guidance

This policy is based on:

- the Department for Education’s statutory guidance Induction for early career teachers \(England\) from 1 September 2021
- The Early career framework \(ECF\) reforms
- The Education \(Induction Arrangements for School Teachers\) \(England\) Regulations 2012
- The ‘relevant standards’ referred to below are the Teachers’ Standards.

This policy complies with our funding agreement and articles of association.

3. The induction programme

For a full-time ECT, the induction programme will typically last for two academic years which will be referred to ECT1 and ECT2. Part-time ECTs will serve a full-time equivalent. Up to one term of continuous employment may count towards completion of the induction period.

For ECT1s the programme is quality assured by the London District East Teaching School Hub, our ‘appropriate body’.

For 2023 – 2024 for ECT2s the programme is quality assured by Havering School Improvement Service, our ‘appropriate body’. From September 2024 this will change to the London District East Teaching School Hub.

The induction programme will be underpinned by the Early Career Framework, enabling ECTs to understand and apply the knowledge and skills set out in the ECF so as to successfully complete their induction period. The Headteacher/Principal will determine how the school will deliver the ECF to comply with the requirements set out in the Early Career Framework guidance above.

Prior to the ECT serving their induction, the Headteacher/Principal and Appropriate Body must agree that the post is suitable.

3.1 Posts for induction

Each ECT will:

- ✓ complete both years of the ECF programme organised through the Teaching School Hub using the approved ECF material of Ambition Institute. Time will be built into the ECT's week to ensure that this is completed and to support the ECT with managing and prioritising workload
- ✓ be provided with the necessary employment tasks, experience and support to enable them to demonstrate satisfactory performance against the relevant standards throughout, and by the end of, the induction period
- ✓ have an appointed mentor with whom they will meet regularly and who will have qualified teacher status (QTS) Where possible, this mentor will teach the same subject as the ECT to ensure access to a subject specialist. In primary this may be the year group leader of the year the ECT is assigned to
- ✓ have an appointed induction tutor, who will have qualified teacher status (QTS)
- ✓ have a reduced timetable to allow them to undertake activities in their induction programme, with no more, in ECT1, than 90% of the timetable of our existing teachers on the main pay range, and, in ECT2, no more than 95% of the timetable of an existing teacher on the main pay scale.
- ✓ regularly teach the same class or classes
- ✓ take part in similar planning, teaching and assessment processes to other teachers working in similar posts
- ✓ not be given additional non-teaching responsibilities without appropriate preparation and support
- ✓ not have unreasonable demands made upon them
- ✓ not normally teach outside the age range and/or subjects they have been employed to teach. Every effort should be made to ensure that ECTs do not teach across more than two departments
- ✓ be exempt from cover for at least the first term of their ECT year
- ✓ not be presented with unreasonably demanding pupil discipline problems on a day-to-day basis
- ✓ exempt from the normal appraisal policy as ECTs have a separate induction which meets the same aims and rationale for the appraisal of teachers

3.2 Support for ECTs

Throughout ECT1 and ECT 2, we support ECTs with:

- a designated induction tutor, who will oversee the ECF for each school within the Trust and ensure that this is being completed by all stakeholders effectively
- a designated subject mentor who will meet weekly with the ECT to provide regular structured mentoring session and targeted feedback in line with the structure of the ECF. This may be the Head of Department or delegated to another experienced member of the department. The mentor will support the induction tutor in providing subject specialist support, training and development. At primary, the induction tutor will provide specialist year group support for the primary curriculum.
- observations of their teaching at regular intervals, and follow-up discussions with prompt and constructive feedback. Observations of their teaching at regular intervals, and follow-up discussions with prompt and constructive feedback, in line with the ECF schedule. Observations will usually be undertaken by the induction tutor but they may also be undertaken by/with others who hold QTS.
- regular professional reviews of their progress, to take place at least half termly, at which we will review their objectives and revise them in relation to the relevant standards and their current needs and strengths. This will be in line with the schedules of the ECF over the two years.
- chances to observe experienced teachers, either within the school or at another school with effective practice
- access to CPD provided by HES, the department, Trust and its 'teaching school'
- membership of their subject association so that they can learn from their subject communities on a national level and attend national subject conferences.
- membership of the Chartered College of Teaching and have access to its CPD and journals.

3 Assessments of ECT performance

Formal assessment meetings will take place in the final term of the ECT's first year (term 3) and the final term of their second year (term 6), and will be carried out by the Induction Tutor, although the subject/year mentor will be consulted in reaching a final judgement.

These meetings will be informed by clear and transparent evidence gathered during the preceding assessment period and drawn from the ECT's work as a teacher and from their induction programme. Copies of the evidence relied on will be made clear to the ECT and the appropriate body within the report.

After these meetings, formal assessment reports will be completed that clearly show how the ECT is performing against the relevant standards. If the assessment indicates that the ECT is not making satisfactory progress towards the standards, the induction tutor will alert the ECT to this and begin the at-risk procedures.

At the end of the programme, ECTs will take part in a final formal assessment meeting. The outcomes of this meeting will be used by the Headteacher/Principal to decide whether the ECT's performance is satisfactory against the relevant standards. The decision will be written up in a final assessment form.

The ECT can add their own comments to each assessment form.

The form will then be sent to the appropriate body, who will make the final decision on whether the ECT has passed their induction period.

A copy of the formal assessment report will then be sent to the appropriate body. The final assessment report will be sent within 10 working days of the meeting, for the appropriate body to make the final decision on whether the ECT has passed their induction period.

In the event that the ECT leaves this post after completing one term or more but before the next formal assessment would take place, the induction tutor or headteacher should complete an interim assessment to ensure that the ECT's progress and performance since the last assessment is captured.

3.4 At-risk procedures

If it becomes clear during a termly progress review or at the first formal assessment point that the ECT is not making sufficient progress, additional monitoring and support measures will be put in place immediately, meaning:

- areas in which improvement is needed are identified
- appropriate objectives are set to guide the ECT towards satisfactory performance
- an effective support programme is put in place to help the ECT improve their performance

If there are still concerns about the ECT's progress at their next formal assessment, so long as it is not the final assessment, the Headteacher/Principal, or the induction tutor in their behalf, will discuss this with the ECT, updating objectives as necessary and giving details of the improvement plan for the next assessment period. At this stage, the appropriate body will be alerted and asked to visit the ECT and induction tutor to quality assure the plan and ensure that appropriate judgements have been made and support is in place. ECTs would also be advised of their right to representation from their union or another appropriate person if preferred.
